

Early Career Researcher Session

Fostering the Future of Indigenous Studies and Cultural Heritage Research

— Thursday, November 30, 2023 15:00~17:30 —

“Self-representations of the 'Other' in Ethnic tourism”

Jianhong Zhou, Hokkaido University

“Commercialisation and over-commercialisation: dilemmas of Miao silverware craftsmen in Fenghuang, China”

Chujun Wang, Hokkaido University

“Community Involvement and Indigenous Inclusion in the Utilization of Archaeological Heritage In Hokkaido”

Amanda Gomes, Hokkaido University

“Indigenous Focused Cultural Heritage Management in Large Scale Development Impact Regions in Hokkaido and Okinawa, Japan”

Jordan Ballard, Hokkaido University

“Lessons Learned from Ethnographic Fieldwork in Nibutani”

Michael J. Ioannides, University of California Santa Barbara

“Kidney function and inflammation biomarkers in the Amazonian Indigenous Shuar of Ecuador”

Hannah Cantrell, University of Oregon

Admission: Free

Venue: Center for Ainu and Indigenous Studies Conference Room (1F)

Access: 3 minute walk from the Main Gate; first building past the South Gate security.

Language: English

Organizer: Global Station for Indigenous Studies and Cultural Diversity (GSI)

Email: gsi@oia.hokudai.ac.jp

Web: <http://gi-core.oia.hokudai.ac.jp/gsi>

On-Site Participation

Seating is limited. Once the registration cap is reached, please join us online.

<https://forms.gle/uQa8fnFR6XSxQjga8>

Online Participation

Registration is not required.
Zoom Meeting link below:

<https://us02web.zoom.us/j/89837328376>

